

Irish Archaeological Field School 2010 Programme

7th June to 27th August 2010
focussing on research in the Boyne Valley

BECTIVE ABBEY - THE HILL OF TARA - ROSNAREE - NEWGRANGE

Do you want to dig abroad?

Do you want to earn university credits by undertaking archaeological field-work and excavation at beautiful Irish historic sites under the tuition of leading experts?

Would you like to experience life as an archaeologist while immersing yourself in the richness of the Irish life?

If the answer to one of more of these questions is 'YES', then the Irish Archaeological Field School is for you. We are Ireland's leading provider of university accredited, site based archaeological research and training. The ethos of the school is to provide an opportunity for students and enthusiasts of archaeology and anthropology to experience at first hand the excitement of archaeological excavation within an established research framework.
