Cultural Resource Management Positions

Timmins Martelle Heritage Consultants Inc. is now accepting applications for personnel for the 2011 field season.

We are currently looking to hire individuals who can fill full- and part-time positions as:

- * field workers and supervisors;
- * laboratory workers and supervisors; as well as
- * report writers.

Applicants should have some training in or knowledge of archaeological field and laboratory methods. Experience in cultural resource management is highly desirable but not mandatory.

Applicants will participate in archaeological projects throughout southern Ontario and should be prepared for some overnight travel. All projects will be run out of our London office. Some fieldwork will be conducted jointly with First Nations groups. First Nations students are encouraged to apply.
